Seniors '08

"The past is our definition."- Wendell Berry

Growing up our parents always told us that high school would be the best and the fastest four years of our lives. We of course did not believe them but once again our parents were right. Over four years, we learned a lot about each other but mostly about ourselves, we made our best friends and we left looking forward to our individual futures.

As the senior class of 2008, the duty to set an example for the other classes lay on our shoulders. We were leaders. However, the pressure to figure out what we wanted to do with our lives was a constant worry. A worry that was all sorted out in our own time. Some of us decided to attend college and hoped to become doctors, lawyers and even scientists. Other members of our class chose the path that led straight to the "real world". We all investigated and sought futures that would leave us feeling a sense of accomplishment.

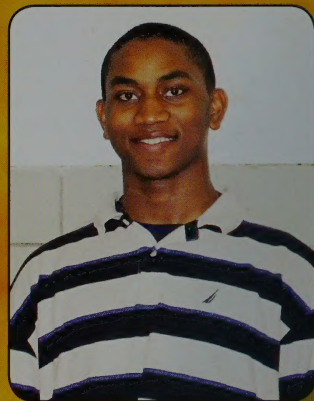

However, no matter where we went, or what path we chose, we all still shared four years at Abington High School together. We all shared that ability to look back upon our high school days and say, "Maybe those were the best years of our lives". We created a Yearbook to look back at our days at A.H.S. This book salutes the class of 2008: who we were, who we are now and who we will become.

Senior Class 2008!

Look at Us!

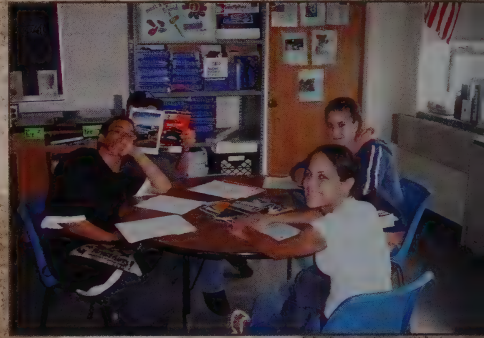

remember this?

Take a look at Academics ...

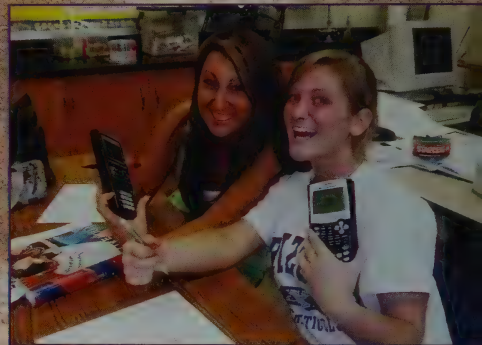

Looking back, clearly it may be stretching the truth to say that academics were everyone's favorite part of coming to school, but we did manage to have a lot of fun learning! For four years we were obligated to study hard and encouraged by those around us to try our best in all our endeavors, especially in the classroom. Sure, we had our fair share of rowdy pep rallies, pageants, "pack the place" events, and even bonfires, but overall, school was a place of learning. Everyday when we came to school we were guaranteed to learn something new, whether it was it chemistry or biology, algebra or trigonometry, English literature or analytical writing or even the process of child development or proper diet. We were educated on a broad selection of subjects. We learned from our teachers, from our peers, and certainly from our experiences in and out of the classroom. We can look back on field trips, on movie nights, on projects and research papers, and we can be proud that we achieved and accomplished so much in our four years as high school students. From science experiments, to performances in English class, to building bridges in math classes, or even building sculptures in the art studio, the academic portion of our high school career is long lasting and certainly memorable. From these years in school, we will take away valuable knowledge, lasting friendships and lots of memories.

Abington High School is very fortunate to have such a great English Department. Heading the department is Dr. Gonsalves, a 12 year veteran of AHS. We also have other veteran teachers including: Ms. Phlaumer, Ms. Clifford, Mrs. Willson (formerly Ms. Miller!), Mrs. McHugh, and Ms. Chase. We were lucky enough to welcome Mr. Regalbuto to the English department too. English is a major class at AHS; we took it all four years! As underclassmen we learned reading strategies, organizational writing, and even started to experiment with public speaking. As seniors we were able to choose from three English electives. We learned new writing styles, how to write poetry and how to speak publicly! After all that studying we were well acquainted with skills for the real world. Throughout our 4 great years the department has undergone many changes but one thing always remains a constant, SSR. Sustained Silent Reading time in English classes not only taught us great life lessons but also let us relax with a good book during our otherwise hectic school day!

Science: physical science, biology, chemistry, physics, technology education, anatomy and physiology, environmental science, hot topics in science, and human biology. These are the many areas we were able to study in the science department. AHS let us choose from electives in science so we could go above and beyond what the average high school student was exposed to. Looking back, we were truly privileged in this field of study!

The science department said their goal was to stimulate interest in the students' minds and prepare us to be well rounded in science after graduating. This was certainly the case when we were competing at the regional, state and international science fairs. We were showing how much we knew when we were winning money, scholarships, and even internships in the field of science too! Looking back we can certainly acknowledge that our science education surely did create some educated members of society! Just look at the pictures!

From Ms. Dwyer's ever-changing wardrobe to Mr. Holbrook's witty sense of humor, the history department has its characters. Freshmen year we learned about world history- most of us from Ms. Dwyer or Mr. Moore. We remembered the emphasis Ms. Dwyer put on Charlemagne and his rule and how Mr. Moore had us make up raps. Ms. Kinsman had a great deal to say and we didn't want to take the notes, but in the end we all learned a lot and our binders were bursting. Mr. Lanner's class was always exciting from our debates to the field trips we took. Mr. Scott enlightened us with his knowledge of American history and even played frisbee after school. The Abington High School history department is now part of our past and we will look back and use what we learned in our futures.

Math

Over the years, the whole AHS student body has participated in all sorts of math classes. In our four years we have had over seven different math teachers, not to mention an MCAS tutor just for math. That's a lot of math. There were ten different courses at various levels and almost every student in our class could brag about completing at least three different courses. We could've used some more technology in our classrooms, but there was nothing we couldn't do with a little practice. We know, "You have to practice at math to get better."

Foreign language classes are always interesting at AHS! Our language teachers bring their passion for language into the classroom with not only books, but with pictures, cultural food, foreign objects and animation! The teachers always stay after school to help us if there is something we are having trouble with. They are inspiring with their stories about the time they went to other countries and the experiences they have encountered. Classes have always been fun and helped us in the long run.

Whether you like to use paint, graphite or charcoal, or you were enrolled in art studio and drawing or painting; you could count on being in room E 104 with Mr. Mahoney and Ms. Lee. It was where landscapes, still lifes of plants, bones, and random objects from the garbage were all part of an average art class thanks to Mr. Mahoney. It was during sculpture with Ms. Lee and Mrs. Goldman where many AHS students faced the challenges of using clay, paper, metal, wood, and all in between to construct an idea. They also taught us to take pictures and transform our picture into new images in digital art and design. Overall, we had fun, inspired each other and developed our talents in art class, and Abington High artists will certainly leave remembering a few of Mr. Mahoney's crazy stories and even crazier inspirations!

At Abington High School, in addition to physical education we also had the opportunity to take wellness or child development. In Mrs. Daisy's wellness class, we learned more than we could imagine about drugs and alcohol. One thing we will always remember is wearing the goggles with the vision of a person who is inebriated and trying to function at a normal level. It's harder than you think! We all learned how to make responsible decisions in our lives. In child development, Mrs. Daisy taught us the ins and outs of pregnancy, babies and parenting. We will all remember carrying our "baby" around and wearing the "belly". Gym class gave us the chance to go outside and get active. We would play a variety of different sports such as football, baseball, frisbee, and more. In the winter time we would play games like wiffle ball, badminton, and volleyball.

Mr. Leavell helping Joe Landry

Looking back at our business savvy seniors, all the successful tips about the future were taught in business electives by Mr. Leavell. Business classes such as finance, marketing, accounting and entrepreneurial studies prepared us for what we needed to know in our careers. Transition to workplace added in 07-08, offered students a way to have experiences with a true job. Through the use of workbooks, projects, and movies shown, we have learned lessons that apply to the real world. From balancing checkbooks to managing a company, we studied it all. Thursdays were computer lab days to go and research a topic we learned about in class. After finishing class work on Fridays we could watch an episode of "The Office" which always had the class laughing. Mostly what we should remember from these electives are the valuable life skills taught, and the potential to do something great with them.

There are many different activities Abington High School students like to participate in. Such activities include attending the bonfire, spectating at sporting events, going to Drama productions, and so much more. These activities are what make up lasting memories that, years from now, we will be able to look back on and remember how much we loved being in high school.

2008 marked the third annual Mr.AHS pageant, organized by Mrs.McHugh and the NHS. This years contestants featured 4 seniors, Ryan FitzGerald, Ian Gormley, Kevin MacLean and Peter Kyller. Also included was Ryan Vantine (junior), Nick Malafronte (sophomore) and John Tomlin (freshman). The show opened with the boys dancing to Jamiroquai's "Canned Heat" for the fitness routine. It then continued to the always amusing talent portion. Fitzy's impersonation of Hannah Montana stole the show! After a brief intermission, the pageant went on to the formal wear. The boys were all wearing stunning white suits, with the exception of Kevin and Peter who were sporting the classic black suit. This was a big year for Peter because he finally got pants that fit! The final portion of the show was Question and Answers. When asked who he would most want to be, Nick answered "Chuck Norris" so he could do sweet round house kicks. Finally they announced the winner, Mr.Hannah Montana himself, Ryan FitzGerald! Peter took second place, and Ian third place. This year's show was a great success and will hopefully be making a return next year!

Take a look at Underclassmen...

Underclassmen are a key component in Abington High School. They play an important part by being involved in our classes, clubs, activities and sports. Each class has their own set of fund-raisers; juniors with their auction, and sophomores and freshmen with their bake sales and car washes. They also help to bring out the spirit of AHS and they leave many memories doing it! The Class of 2008 wishes the best of luck to all the underclassmen in their years to come here at Abington and in the future!

Take a look at Clubs and activities...

At Abington High School, there are a number of clubs to get involved in. From Drama to National Honor Society, you could choose what club best portrayed your personal interests. If you were interested in using your knowledge for competition you could join the Math Team. However, if being creative by writing or designing was your passion, then the Student Art Magazine was for you. We even had clubs for the civic-minded, the natural leaders and tomorrow's teachers. The varying difference in clubs and activities represented the diversity of students at Abington High. The clubs could provide for students a way to showcase their talent by being with other kids who enjoyed the same thing.

"Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other." – John F. Kennedy

Civic Forum

The Civic Forum was founded last year by Mr. Borne in order to facilitate open discussion about current events between students and faculty. Mr. Borne is also the decider of topics. We meet Thursdays, in the library, on the couches, not at the computers, but not quite so far as the copy room, by the windows, between the librarian station and the spinning book shelves; you know the ones. At a typical meeting you'll find the Civic Forum feasting on cookies and Diet Coke and discussing worldly topics. It's a great club that will stand the test of time; or at least as long as there are important topics to discuss.

Engineering

The Engineering Club is new this year and anticipating a growth in numbers in the next few years. The members are interested in the art of scientific study. This new addition to after school life at AHS promotes critical thinking and real world skills while enhancing the engineering education of the members involved!

Interact Club

The Interact club is a community service club. It is headed by Mr. Leavell once a month. There is usually a project to do like selling paper Christmas trees at Stop and Shop, or raising money for the Rotary club outside of Barrett's Haunted Mansion. Each year the club donates their time to reading books to kids at the ECC and playing bingo with the senior citizens. The members of the club are from all grades and everyone plays an important role.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is a worldwide human rights movement. It works to prevent violations of human rights around the world. Members write letters and campaigns, hold discussions and assemblies, and learn through reading, films, and guest speakers on how to stop violations of human rights. They make sure that everyone enjoys their fundamental rights.

(Not Pictured): Caitlin FitGerald, Jill Smith, and Mr. Lanner

SADD

SADD, which stands for Students Against Destructive Decisions, encourages students to fight against drinking and driving as well as abuse. It creates awareness for students from grades 9-12. This club is run by Ms. Chaisson in the nurses office and meetings are held each week. This year SADD held the first ever White Ribbon Campaign for AHS which promoted awareness about abusive relationships and how to prevent them.

Peer Leaders

The Peer Leaders include a group of students from grades 9-12 who are interested in being positive role models in the school. They also provide information and resources to other students on issues that many not be taught in the classroom. They deal with issues like substance abuse, drunk driving, smoking, peer pressure, young adult behaviors, family and peer relationships, violence awareness, and many other topics. The initial meeting is held each fall and all interested students are welcome to join.

Tomorrow's Teachers

Allison Griggs, Mrs. Dwyer, and Jill Fagan

All students can join Tomorrow's Teachers Club. It allows students to gain a real understanding of teaching and a role of being a teacher. Members learn and experience teaching as a profession, employment opportunities, financial options, and educational issues. It is a very good experience for students who want to be a teacher in the future.

Math Team

The AHS Math Team is open to all students and is lead by Mrs. Rainville. There are five meets during the year and practices are held before each meet. It is open to all students of any and all abilities and the meetings are held every Wednesday and they last two and one half hours each. The meetings are great practice for SAT's and math classes.

Greenwave Gazette

The Greenwave Gazette is the official magazine of AHS. "Gazette" staff members always meet after school and type up articles that students themselves write, then they design the layout for the magazine. The articles submitted are not limited to a story or event but can also be as different as a cd or movie review. The Greenwave Gazette always puts out a product that is interesting to read and filled with imaginative and informative student work.

SAM

The Student Art Magazine is run by Mrs. Pflaumer and Ms. Lee. Student members read over submissions for the magazine, choose the cover, and put in student artwork from that year. They accept essays, poetry, short stories, and other forms of writing before they begin the layout. They then find art work from students in classes like digital art, drawing and painting, and sculpture. Any student and teacher may submit work into the magazine. The magazine is printed and available towards the end of the school year. Each copy is $3 and you can buy as many copies as you would like.

Jazz Band

Pat Manning, Dan Cusick, Dave Gambon, Thomas Chamber, Liz Griffin, Mrs. Harrington, James Rota, Andrew Gambon, Steve Sullivan, Steve Akins, Kyle Macleod, Emily Jacobs, Stephanie Hall, Meghann Hickey, Bobby Gentile, Rachel Mathison

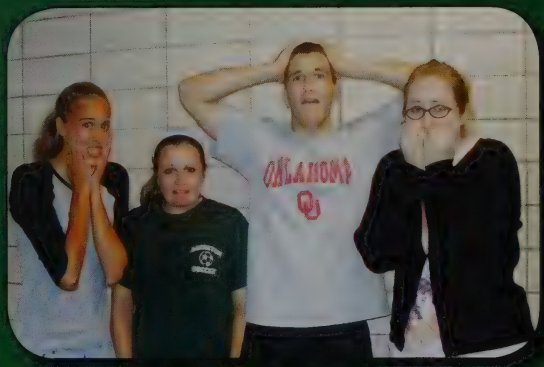

Jazz Band is an after school club for students who are looking for more time to practice their instruments in a scene other than the average band. Instead of playing contemporary professional music that the regular band plays, jazz bands plays, well, jazz music. All their hard work put in every week shows in their performance at the spring concert. It gives students a better look into the life of jazz and rock music.

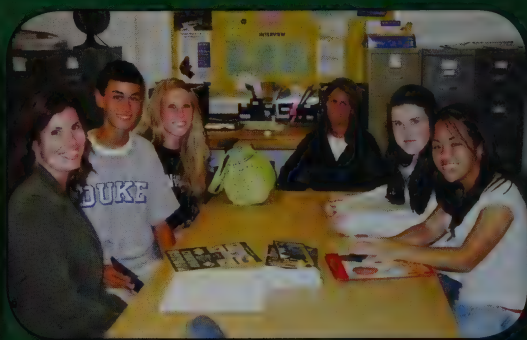

Class Officers!

The class officers worked diligently each year to guide their specific class. Being a class officer was a real job, especially when it came down to organizing some of the most important class functions such as prom and senior reception. Their jobs included creatively thinking of ways to raise money through fundraisers and putting the money to good use by sponsoring activities that made our four years at high school so memorable. Our senior '08 officers were led by our Advisor, Ms. Kinsman, President Elizabeth Keohane, Vice President Kevin McLean, Secretary Megan Tomlin, and Treasurer Emily West.

NHS was established in 1921 and it recognizes academic achievement in students who are a part of it as well as other students. Members of NHS are required to have high grades and they must maintain them throughout the year. These leaders must also show strength of character and honorable work ethic within their community. Leadership and service, character, and scholarship opportunities are some of the events and opportunities that are included in this club.

International / HYI

HYI and International club are two clubs combined into one. Both are organized by Ms. Culbert. They both help the community and have a Healthy Initiative day in the summer. They have it in the high school gym and have games before school starts. International club has a week when students and teachers give presentations on countries they have visited. There is also food given out so you can learn all the different cultures and see from the presentations how they live.

No Place For Hate

No Place for hate is a program that has a no tolerance level for bullying. Their main goal is to prevent bullying from happening in younger kids. One of their projects included making up skits and performing them for the Frolio Junior High and the various elementary schools. They are an extraordinary group of students trying to make bullying history.

Yearbook

Yearbook committee members dedicated themselves to a solid six months of creativity, effort and time. They worked many days after school each week to meet pressing deadlines in order to have a memorable yearbook.

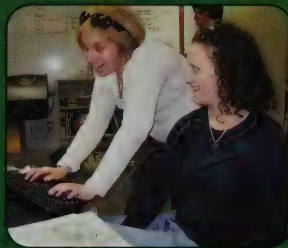

From making pages and writing articles, to taking pictures and raising money, the yearbook committee spent countless hours designing it all so that the class of '08 would have an yearbook filled with memories that last forever. Making a yearbook takes a lot of time and careful planning. With the brilliant help of our Yearbook advisor Ms. Chase, we feel that our class's book describes who we were, who we are, and how we lived for the past four years. We hope you enjoy the yearbook and never forget all the wonderful memories you had of being in high school. Good luck!

The Drama club puts on two productions every year. The productions are the fall play and the spring musical. This year the spring musical was "Little Women," and it was later performed at the Drama Festival. The big spring musical was "Bye Bye Birdie." During these plays drama members acted, sang, danced and had lots of fun, even though it took a lot of hard work and dedication to pull it off. People could also be on stage crew and house to help out the productions. The stage crew work behind the scenes with the lights, costumes, set and other things. House is in charge of passing out programs, and collecting tickets. After all the rehearsals and everything behind the scenes being done, the Drama club puts on a great performance.

Student Council

The Student Council has five students in the senior class. They were elected from the members of their class. The Student Council has a schedule of meetings. They discuss school-wide issues and provide helpful services to the school and to the community. The Student Council has organized and coordinated an annual blood drive and also arranged social activities. They do a great job representing the student body and the faculty committee.

Remember how far these girls could run?

The girls' cross country team had a successful 2007 season with a winning South Shore league record of 4-2. The team was led by junior captains, Jillian Smith and Caitlin Fitzgerald. Jillian had a successful season, placing either 1st or 2nd in every meet, securing an All Star position within the South Shore League. Caitlin, Liz, and Emily worked hard and consistently placed in the top 10 at each meet, scoring important points that guaranteed a win. Nicole, returning to the team after a sophomore year hiatus, developed into a strong runner this season, running as number five for the team and scoring points in the last few meets. Newcomers, Julie and Meaghan, also worked extremely hard this season, eventually scoring points in several meets as well. Erin and Kristen developed into competitive runners as well. The girls ran hard every day on long runs, track workouts, and hill runs - but they also showed up every day with a positive attitude and they deserve to have had such a successful season. The entire team will be returning next year for another successful season!

Cross Country

These guys seemed to run forever!

This year's boy's cross country record was 3-5 overall, 2-4 SSL. Mike O'Brien and Eric Lee served as the captains helping us towards our best win. The mid season 28-29 dual meet victory over Carver was on a hot humid day with temps peaking in the 90's! The Greenwave boys executed race strategy brilliantly to overcome a huge early deficit. 8 runners factored into the decision that day and the outcome was not secured until the final finishing straightaway. John McKeeon was our top runner every race; he finished 15th at our South Shore League Meet held at Strawberry Valley Golf Course in Abington, he won a Freshman-Only race by nearly 25 seconds at the Catholic Memorial Invitational in Boston's Franklin Park, and was named team's Most Valuable Runner. Eight new runners came out for the team this season and 11 runners earned varsity letters.

The Seniors Boys before a big game!

This season was one of the best seasons in recent history. Our team was led to its best record in the past four years. With great underclass talent in the likes of Cory Donlin, Zach Connanon, Max Suarez and others combined with the senior leadership of Tim Esau, Andrew Wight, John Bacon and Matt Coughlin the team nearly made it to the tournaments. The team could always depend on the seniors for their leadership, knowledge of the game, and their intangible abilities. They are now set with many great seasons under coach Hill and will try to top our great season!

The Abington Girls Soccer team had an unforgettable season lead by senior captains Sabrina Thompson and Becky DeSieno. With a rough start, they eventually got the ball rolling, tying Norwell which had been a rival determined to be beat for a long time coming. The girls were faced with a hard schedule from the start, playing division II teams including Pembroke twice. The first time, it was an upsetting 3-1 loss. However the second time the team met it was a nail biter to the very end, with a close 1-0 loss. In the end, the future of the season rested on the last game vs. Hanover. With a 2-1 lead in the first half, the girls were unable to hold on to the lead. Although the season fell short ending with a 7-5-2 record in the league, the girls played a great season and have four wonderful seasons to look back on.

The 2007 season of the boys' soccer team were hoping to win the league title as like every season. With senior captains Jeff Carroll, Marc Goldman and Peter Kyler anything seemed possible. With the season not starting off to their expectations the senior boys were not going to give up. It was Ryan Fitzgerald, Andrew Gambon, Andrew Holer, Leo Silva and Greg Yelsey jobs as seniors to keep the team going. Little did they know with that type of attitude two of their best wins would be coming up and would be against Mashpee and Foxboro. They were one game away from going into the playoffs. They finished their season off 3-15-1.

This year has been a trying year for the Green Wave cheerleaders. We began the fall season with 22 girls and met our new assistant, Coach Kim, who pushed us to be better. We continued to cheer at every football game and when it came time to compete, we took third in the league and placed top three in nearly every competition. Then winter season came and our team was made up of only fourteen girls due to injuries. We had fun at practice as always and learned a brand new routine. The Green Wave cheerleaders had hopes of taking first in the league and advancing on to states for the senior cheerleaders final year.

Marching Band

There is always that one group of students whose achievements and accomplishments are not always displayed as they should be. Looking back over the last 4 years at A.H.S. the group of students making up our marching band were always working so hard. However, with their hard work and hours of practicing they were never given the same opportunity to perform or compete everyday like other clubs and other sports teams. Instead they were the background music at football games and the flamboyant soundtrack to the town's parades. However, it was during these events, where they were heard, but not necessarily seen, that we learned we could not exist as we did without them. Marching band represented our school music department. Their amazing and dedicated teamwork stood out as a representation of our school's mission statement. Being able to work as a group and learn how to play and march in sync was a testament to their hard work and long practice sessions.

The Abington Lady Wave coached by Stephen Moore proved everyone wrong in the 07-08 seasons. Without the hot hand of Teresa O'Neil, The girls' basketball team was not expected to go far. However, with the leadership of tri-captains Erin Gillis, Chelsie Kane, and Sabrina Thompson the Lady wave was able to show everyone what they could do. With eight games remaining in the season the Lady Wave accomplished the first of their goals. With a 9-4 record the team beat longtime rival, Norwell, in order to become eligible for the state tournament. Although they were unable to put up a banner for their season's success, their accomplishments did not stop at Norwell. The girls continued to better their record by beating the defending league champions Carver in a ten point victory. The Lady Wave is also proud to be Cohasset's only loss for the 07-08 seasons. This year's focus was on teamwork more than anything else. Rather than relying on one person to win a game, this season the lady wave proved the only way to win games is by working together as well as to "run, rebound, defend, and play hard"-Coach Moore.

The Green Wave Varsity Boys Basketball team began the season rebuilding after graduating 12 players from last year's squad. Senior leadership has been provided by Dylan Roberts, Matt Coughlin, and Aby Youseff. The team won 11 of their first 15 games, again qualifying for the post-season state tournament. Captains Brian Kurowski and Kristian LaPointe have lead the team to continued success during the 2008 season. Sophomore Ryan Chambers and Lapointe have lead the team in scoring during the season. Strong support has been provided by Juniors Chris Tighe, Tyler Hitchcock, Max Suarez and Sophomores Greg Cronin, Sean Lawton and Rob Cornish.

This year we started fresh as we adopted a new coach and a new way to play hockey. Coach Hill and our other four coaches came to every practice with new ideas on how to make us better hockey players. If something didn't work he would come with a new idea. Our new captains this year were Chad Quaglia, Bill Lara, and Mike Marella; along with our other two seniors Eric DeVeau and Andrew White. Between the pipes were Greg Mitchell and Tyler Fuimara. While it was hard to deal with a loss and a tie against our rival, Rockland, we managed to put some away against St. Joseph's and Carver twice. We appreciated all the fans that attended our games and hope to see more of that as EAB continues.

TO MY SON JOHN BACON,

Since the day you were born, you were as smart as can be.
So quick to learn and so quick to see.

You always questioned and looked for more
As you opened up each and every door.

At the ECC, like a star you did shine.

How proud I was to say you were mine.

At the Woodsdale you got straight A's and had fun.

The Spelling Contest was hard, but you concentrated and won.

In Junior High you stole the show.

So many awards you received! The pride just glowed.

Soon you were in High School and the years went by fast.

Great times and new challenges; It was such a blast.

As you kept up your grades, you dual-enrolled in college

To learn Calculus 2 to expand your mathematical knowledge.

You strive to succeed as well as have fun

In academics and activities, and sports in the afternoon sun.

You are a son every parent dreams of...

Perfect, smart and wonderful; brilliant, charming and full of love.

I could not have asked for a better son.

You are the best in the world. You're Number 1.

Love, Mom
